

LOGOS

Bodegas Escudero

As you can well imagine, the journey has been challenging, but we don't give up. Because it is worth it. Because we feel deeply about what we do. Because we have been taught from an early age that wine is much more than it seems. It is not just a beverage. It is culture. It is art. It is the fruit of the union between man and nature. It is the result of constant effort and dedication over the years. But above all, we dedicate our lives to wine because it is our history, because our great-grandfather, grandfather and father lovingly tended the same vineyards that we cultivate today and drank wine from the same vines. A special bond that unites our family throughout history makes us passionately love the countryside and wine, and motivates us to try to do better and better.
